

There is a young kid inside of me
Today is another difficult day
Me, who is like a young kid, is right here
But where have I hid?

It's okay, your world
Just as you are right now
Is precious
Stay here with me

After I have laughed it off like an adult
Even when I cry like a young kid
We resemble each other a lot
Let's be together
Just as you are
Like a kidult

At times, it's okay to waste time
Even if they say that you're immature
I find myself in those images of you
I'm not afraid of tomorrow, which may fall apart
Paint this world, which has become dark, with pure white heart

It's okay, your world
Just as you are right now
Is precious
Stay here with me
Even tomorrow, which I'll live as a kid who has grown up a lot
We resemble each other a lot
Let's be together
Just as you are
Like a kidult
